++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloud and patchy rain soon spreading from the south Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A cool, clear night with a widespread frost likely inland. Perhaps more in the way of cloud around the Galloway coast later. Winds light and variable in direction. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Saturday:
Best of the limited early brightness in the Central Belt. Otherwise turning increasingly cloudy with patchy rain spreading from the south, as winds strengthen. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Early rain will clear Sunday with some brightness. Then an unsettled spell with milder conditions but windy with periods of rain to start the new week, best conditions in east.
